The small argument, made with paper

WHAT A PORTFOLIO ACTUALLY NEEDS

A portfolio is not a scrapbook. It is a small argument, made with paper, that a year of learning happened. Reviewers look for three things and then they stop reading.

WHAT THEY LOOK FOR	HOW YOU PROVE IT
Attendance	A dated page, kept weekly
Coverage of required subjects	One sample per subject, dated
Progress	Two samples of the same skill, months apart

THE FIVE PAGES THAT DO MOST OF THE WORK

A dated table of contents, an attendance record, a course list with materials, two work samples per subject dated months apart, and a one page summary in your own words. Everything else is optional.

Photograph the big work. A volcano, a quilt, a rebuilt engine. Keep the photo, let the object go, and write one line about what it taught.

PLEASE READ THIS PAGE

This is a printable planning document, not professional advice. It is sold as a reference and a record keeping tool. It is not legal, financial, tax, medical, veterinary, engineering, agronomic or safety certification, and it does not replace a licensed professional, your local code official, your county extension office, or the manufacturer of any product you use.

You are responsible for your own decisions. Conditions differ by place, climate, equipment and person. Read the whole document before relying on any figure, date or interval in it, confirm anything that matters against the current official source, and use your own judgment before acting.

Activities for children need an adult present. Several activities involve scissors, small parts, water, heat, food, outdoors, tools or fire. Adults are responsible for choosing what is age appropriate, supervising it, and checking the surroundings and materials first. Nothing here replaces your own judgment about the children in your care. No educational, developmental, behavioral or health result is promised or implied by any page in this pack.
